Value Based Discipleship

TRAINING DAY

How do we disciple in our new postmodern environment?

There was a time in our nation when Christian values were society's values but now that day has gone. Psychologists tell us that our actions are the result of our beliefs and our values. As Christians we sometimes still fall into the trap of telling people what to do. This was once effective because those core values were part of society, but we believe this approach is not effective today.

On this training day Laurence Singlehurst will give practical and very applicable models of how we can both be disciplined ourselves and help others change and grow in this post modern world. As many of you will know Laurence is a great communicator and the day will be full of his wit and wisdom.
